

Law360 Names Carol A. Sigmond to its 2021 Construction Editorial Advisory Board

March 29, 2021

For the third year in a row, Porzio Bromberg's Construction Law Chair, Carol A. Sigmond, was named to the Law360 Construction Editorial Advisory Board. Sigmond, one of only 10 attorneys appointed to the Board, is recognized for her extensive experience and knowledge in Construction Law.

Law360 publishes legal news and competitive intelligence newsletters. The Construction Editorial Advisory Board provides insight and feedback to Law360 to enhance current and future coverage of developments in Construction Law.

Sigmond represents clients in a diverse array of issues ranging from contract formation to contract and real estate disputes arising out of construction projects. Her work encompasses all aspects of Construction Law. She is a recognized thought leader in the Construction Law community and is a sought after speaker and author on Construction Law trends.